DEMOS TO RISE, JESTER SAYS

Truman Urges Parties To Cooperate For U. S. Good

PRESIDENT PLEDGES TO WORK WITH GOP FOR NATIONAL UNITY

ELECTION DEFEAT OF ADMINISTRATION SAID NOT CHANGING POLICY

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—President Truman called upon both Democrats and Republicans today to exercise "wisdom and restraint" in operation of the government under divided party control.

He told the nation that the parties must examine their respective positions "with stern and critical analysis" to exclude any attempt "to tamper with the public interest in order to achieve personal or partisan advantage."

Foreign Policy Unchanged.

Mr. Truman said in a statement read to his news conference that the Democratic defeat in last Tuesday's election "does not alter our domestic or foreign interests or problems." He reminded that "in foreign affairs we have a well-charted course to follow."

The president declared he knew of no resignations planned by members of his cabinet and said that Charles G. Ross will continue as his press secretary.

Text of Statement.

The text of Mr. Truman's statement:

"The people have elected a Republican majority to the Senate and to the House of Representatives. Under our constitution the congress is the lawmaking body. The people have chosen to entrust the controlling voice in this branch of our government to the Republican party. I accept their verdict in the spirit in which all good citizens accept the result of any fair election.

"At the same time and under the same constitution, the duties

TRUMAN PLANS NO CHANGES IN TOP POSTS AT PRESENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—President Truman said today he plans no changes in his cabinet at this time.

He made that statement to his news conference in response to a question. The last cabinet shift came in September when Henry A. Wallace was removed as secretary of commerce and replaced by W. Averell Harriman.

Mr. Truman said also that he does not believe there is a bit of foundation for reports that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is about to resign as Army chief of staff.

A reporter told the President there are reports Eisenhower plans to quit because he has been unable to obtain clear information on how much money the war department will be able to spend.

The President also was asked whether Leslie Biffle, secretary of the senate, will be made a presidential administrative assistant.

Mr. Truman replied that the reporter would have to talk to Biffle about that.

To a question as to whether Chester Bowles, former stabilization director, may be named ambassador to Great Britain, Mr Truman replied, No, not that he knows of.

As for whether OPA Chief Paul Porter is going back to the chairmanship of the Federal Communications commission, now that OPA is about to wind up, the President said he could not answer that.

WARNING TO KEEP PEACE MINGLES WITH TRIBUTES PAID HEROES OF OTHER WARS ON ARMISTICE DAY

By The Associated Press.

Armistice Day tributes to the dead of two world wars mingled today with calls at home and abroad for their sons to stand on guard that war may never come again.

Here in the United States, President Truman led the observance by laying a wreath of chrysanthemums on the Unknown Soldier's tomb in Arlington Cemetery.

Saying the nation's defense program is aimed at keeping the peace, the president added in a brief adddess:

"The welfare of the United States and the welfare of the world are wrapped up in one package: Peace and the welfare of the world as a whole."

In France, school children decorated graves of French and Allied soldiers. American veterans of 1917-18 were represented by the Paris post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at ceremonies at the Arch of Triumph. President George Bidault placed a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

German prisoners of war laid flowers on the graves of 6,000 American war dead buried near Cambridge, England.

In Germany itself, Gen. Joseph T. McNarney asked his occupation troops for a rededication of "Ourselves and our efforts to the accomplishment and preservation of a lasting peace."

Gen. Mark W. Clark told American troops in Austria that the day was one for renewed resolve that "the sacrifices made in both wars shall not have been in vain but shall be the groundwork on which we build the bulwark of lasting peace for the entire world."

Bluntly calling for preparedness, Fleet Admiral William F. Halsey told a Kansas City American Legion gathering that the United States tried disarmament once "and it didn't work."

"If it had," he added, "we wouldn't have the dead of two world was to honor this day."

MANAGEMENT, LABOR ARMISTICE IS URGED AS CONTROL DROPPED

PRESIDENT ADVOCATES PEACE AFTER FREEING ALMOST ALL ECONOMY

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—President Truman today advocated an armistice between labor and management in his first public statement since he junked wage and price controls.

Wartime curbs on the two groups were lifted after five years when Mr. Truman swept ceilings off all items except rents, sugar and rice. And rent increases appeared "inevitable" to some government officials.

The subject of a labor-management truce came up at the president's Armistice Day news conference when a reporter asked whether he had noted such proposals.

Mr. Truman replied that he had not heard of the suggestions, but said it is just what he has been urging since August, 1945, when the war ended.

The chief executive killed off the price and wage controls in a week end order, declaring:

"More Harm Than Good."

"I am convinced that their further continuance would do the nation's economy more harm than good."

At the same time the Chief Executive placed "squarely upon management and labor" the "responsibility" for economic stability.

His decontrol edict brought immediate promises from industry and business leaders that prices will be held at reasonable levels—after a period of adjustment.

But some of these leaders tempered their pledges with a big "if"—if wage demands don't upset the applecart.

Labor Unions Silent.

From labor unions, many of which already are seeking higher pay to offset living cost increases, there was nothing but silence on the President's action.

On the coal, steel, auto and several other fronts there is plenty of potential trouble if manage-

UNITED STATES NOW HAS CHOICE, TO GO FORWARD—OR BACK

By JAMES MARLOW

WASINGTON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Today we head into one of the golden periods of American history—or into withering disaster.

Time—it may take years—will tell which.

For we have reached that point—that "free economy"—which businessmen and labor leaders, each in their own way, have screamed for.

The government has stepped aside. On Saturday—except for sugar, rice and rents—it dropped all controls on prices and wages.

This ended the controls which had been part of our daily lives since 1942.

They had been kept 14 months after war's end to get us over that hump of reconversion when goods were scarce and prices might have rocketed.

No controls in that period might have meant very bad inflation. That danger may be less than at was a year ago. It is not past.

A great many things can happen. What happens now, even though it seems all right now, may have in it the seeds of further disaster.

Prices will go up on many things starting today. That's sure. Businessmen admit this. But they say it will be only a temporary spurt.

They say when goods, generally, are plentiful, with businessmen competing against one another to make sales, prices will come down.

If through selfishness businessmen boost prices and keep them up, they will be slaughtering the chances for prosperity because:

Those high prices will drain off the earnings and savings of people who will be forced to spend on a few things money they would

Trusteeship Battle Boils Over In U.N.

By MAX HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 11—(AP)—The United Nations battle over trusteeships flared in full force today when Soviet Russia assailed British policies on Palestine and the United States countered with a charge that Russia threatened to "jeopardize" the creation of a trusteeship council.

Although Soviet Ambasador Nikolai V. Novikov devoted most of an hour-long speech to an indictment of Great Britain the Union of South Africa, Australia and other mandatory powers for what he called ioiations of the U. N. charter, the most controversial issue to emerge was the "veto" question.

Veto Not Involved

Novikov denied that Russia was seeking to inject the veto into the trusteeship question, as charged last week by U. S. Representative John Foster Dulles, but he insisted that the assembly determine immediately a definition of the term "states directly concerned."

This, Dulles said, would prolong the discussions indifinitely and might result in failure to set up the council at the present assembly session.

Novikov charged that Britain had violated the charter by not submitting a trusteeship agreement for Palestine and declared that American statements on trusteeship were "contradictory."

U. S. Proposal Skirted

Without making any direct reference to the U. S. proposal to place the former Japanese mandates under a "strategic area arusteeship," Navikov replied at length to last week's speech by John Foster Dulles, American representative.

Novikov singled out Great Britain, Australia and the Union of South Africa for the main part of his criticism, asserting that they and other powers holding former League of Nations mandates were responsible for the failure of the U. N. to set up the trusteeship council before now.

He described the trusteeship agreements filed with the U. N.

British Policy In Palestine Bitterly Rapped By Pepper

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—(AP)—U. S. Senator Claude D. Pepper (D-Fla), who terms British practices in Palestine "barbaric", was on record today asking that the United States government "demand of the United Nations intervention in the Palestine affair."

"Let's remove Britain as a mandatory power over Palestine and put that unfortunate country under the protection of the United Nations," he told the executive committee of the American Jewish congress last night.

Pepper also urged that the American government act to "put United Nations force in Palestine to do whatever policing is necessary."

"The United States," the Florida senator went on, "will never send

Future Of Germany Of Great Concern To Rest Of World

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst.

Clement Attlee spoke Saturday night of the necessity and difficulty of arranging a level of industry which would permit Germany to maintain herself and contribute to the economy of Europe without again becoming an arsenal.

It is something both the politicians and the experts have been working on for many months and, next to the jockeying among the great powers for pilitical position in Germany, represents the greatest problem in postpar Europe.

Germany is a country with great technical and scientific skills, capable of a vast contribution to that economic sufficiency of the world which is now recognized as a prime requirement for peace. One of the great shames of history is that these capabilities cannot be permitted free sway without fear that

Preparedness Is Urged

U. S. MUST REMAIN STRONG, ARMISTICE BREAKFAST IS TOLD

GOVERNOR-ELECT SAYS OTHER NATIONS SHOULD SHOW AIMS PEACEFUL

By GROVER HEIMAN
Daily Sun Staff

Calling for strong armed forces and compulsory military training, Beauford H. Jester, governor-elect of Texas, at the American Legion sunrise breakfast Monday at 8 a. m. on the Fair Grounds, warned America to remain prepared until other nations made visible evidence of peaceful intentions.

"In the meantime and until the good faith of the powerful nations of the earth is manifested and they prove their peaceful and non-aggressive, military and territorial expansion, it behooves us on this Armistice Day to think solemnly on the mistakes in policy our nation has made since Armistice Day 1918 and express our determination as a patriotic organization and as citizens of this great nation that these mistakes shall not be made again," he said.

Speaking before approximately 200 Legionnaires and guests, the present railroad commissioner expressed one hundred per cent endorsement of the Legion's advocation of military training and preparedness.

Realism Is Urged

"We must be realistic. As human beings we take out life insurance, as businessmen we take out fire insurance. We want war insurance. I agree with the American Legion that an adequate Army, Navy, and Air Force is the best insurance."

Framed by early morning sunlight streaming through high windows, the First Citizen of Corsicana stated he did not believe military training made a military nation. The people opposing the idea, he declared, did not know the spirit of the American people, who have an unquenchable love of freedom. Americans, he said, are not a war-like people.

APPARENT VICTORY OF COMMUNISTS IN FRENCH VOTE EYED

NEW YORK, Nov. 11—(AP)—United Nations diplomats scanned reports of Communist election gains in France today for indications that the new French government might develop a more pro-Russian foreign policy than the old regime.

Should this occur, authorities speculated that it could radically alter the power balance in the foreign ministers and United Nations meetings here. However, questions raised by the Sunday ballot were slated to go without exact answers until all returns were in and the new government formed.

France Favors West

France has not always sided with the United States and Britain against Russia on critical issues—and sometimes has played the role of compromiser—but in the main French policy has lined up with the west more than with Russia.

The influence which the Communists appeared to have gained in the Paris government might, on key questions, change this alignment. Such a development would have far-reaching consequences. It would put an end to the situation in which Russia often finds herself without a voting partner among the big powers, thus preventing Britain and the United States from raising the cry of "veto" against Russia so frequently. It could have an incalculable effect on the policies of smaller European nations.

The vote also was being studied for its possible effects on Soviet foreign policy, which in the face of some reverses and stiff opposition has recently, in the view of American diplomats, been more conciliatory.

Occupation Need Stressed

FRANKFURT, Nov. 11—(AP)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, in an Armistice Day address to American troops in Germany, said today that "all the sacrifices we have made in the past will have been made in vain unless we of the occupation army meet our responsibilities today."

GOVERNOR-ELECT HONORED

Texas' Governor-Elect Beauford H. Jester of Corsicana today was honored here with a luncheon at the State Home and a gathering of the Democratic Executive Committee, as well as other outstanding Texas notables. Gov.-Elect Jester also was the principal speaker at the Americano Legion Armistice Day sunrise breakfast this morning.

GOVERNOR-ELECT SEES PARTY STILL LEADER IF PRINCIPLES HELD

FUTURE CHIEF EXECUTIVE SPEAKS AT LUNCHEON IN HIS HONOR HERE

By PAUL MOORE
Daily Sun Staff.

Beauford H. Jester, governor-elect, addressing a home town celebration in his honor at the State Home Monday noon, predicted "the Democratic party will again furnish the leadership and the aspirations of the great majority of Americans who believe in this nation and its form of government, if the party hews to the line of sound Democratic principles of Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Woodrow Wilson and those sound humanitarian concepts of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the late immortal of humanity."

Honor Guests.

Honor guests were members of the Texas legislature, the state Democratic executive committee which met in the auditorium of the State Home after the luncheon; the board of control, railroad commission, national Democratic figures and several congressmen, congressmen-elect, and others.

State Home organizations participated in a program beginning at 12 noon.

Mayor John C. Calhoun of Corsicana was master of ceremonies and welcomed the visitors, after Rev. Erwin F. Bohmfalk, pastor of the First Methodist church, had given the invocation. The governor-elect is chtirman of the board of trustees of the First Methodist church here.

Calvert Responds.

Moyne L. Kelley, superintendent of the State Home, also welcomed the visitors, and presented R. W. Calvert, Hillsboro, chairman of the Texas Democratic executive committee, who responded to the welcome. (Kelley and Calvert are graduates of the State Home.)

Members of the House and Senate were introduced by State Senator James E. Taylor of Kerens.

Guests were introduced and announcements were made.

Julius C. Jacobs, attorney associated with Jester here, post commander of Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 22, American Legion, presented Jester, after being introduced by Mayor Calhoun.

In the beginning of his address, Jester spoke of his personal satisfaction and pride that his fellow-townsmen had invited the distinguished assemblage of state officials and workers to meet in his home town and described the peo-

Northern Blizzard Sends Texas Touch Of Wintry Blasts

By The Associated Press

Texans pulled up another blanket last night as the icy breath of snow storms to the north overspread the state.

Freezing temperatures were general in the Panhandle and Southwest Texas. Salt Flats, in the Southwest, recorded the state's low—22 degrees.

The mercury rose rapidly today under bright sunshine. Cloudiness was reported only at Brownsville.

A skim of ice appeared this morning in sections of Dallas, although the official minimum low was 39 degrees.

Other lows last night: Amarillo 27; Pampa 28; El Paso 29; Big Spring and Abilene 32; Brownsville 59; Corpus Christi 49; Beaumont 48; Texarkana 38.

Temperatures of freezing or slightly below were forecast tonight for the upper Red River valley.

New Snow Storms Due Northwestern Portion Of Nation

By The Associated Press

New snow storms were in the making today for the Northwestern Great Plains states on the heels of deep snow falls and cold.

Forecaster H. A. Downs said in Chicago that the new disturbance which will be felt in the Rocky Mountains and Western Plains during the next 36 hours might prolong the present wintry siege into "one of the longest severe snow periods that area has ever felt in the fall."

The recent snows, which left a blanket as thick as 16 inches in some of the plains areas, contrasted with unseasonably warm weather over the Southern states. In Louisiana, a tornado which killed one person was the apex of a rain squall period.

REP. TEAGUE PLACES WREATH ON TOMB IN MEMORY OF TEXANS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—A wreath honoring Texans who gave their lives in battle for their country was placed at the Tomb of the Upknown Soldier today in colorful ceremonies at Arlington National Cemetery.

Rep. Teague (D-Texas), wounded veteran of fighting in France and Germany in World War II, placed the wreath on behalf of the Texas department of the American Legion.

The sky was overcast as Teague and Legion members from other states solemnly left remembrances at the tomb shortly after President Truman had placed the first wreath.

Seated with Teague during the services was one of his secretaries, Earle McChesney of College Station and Del Rio, who lost a leg in combat in Europe.

ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVANCES IN TEXAS PAY HONORS TO VETERANS OF BOTH WARS; 36TH IS PRAISED

By The Associated Press.

The rhythm of marching feet was heard again today in many Texas cities as the state honored its dead of two world wars.

Parades of veterans and other uniformed groups were a common form of observance of Armistice Day. The War Department arranged to relinquish control of the Texas National Guard in colorful ceremonies at Austin.

Jester Is Speaker

Governor-elect Beauford Jester and Speaker Sam Rayburn urged Americans to work for peace rather than loo to the past.

Speaker Rayburn keynoted the observance at his home town of Bonham with a speech expressing confidence in the "youth of America to meet your responsibilities as citizens and leaders."

"I am not one of the old fogies who feel that the youth of America is going to the dogs and becoming soft," he told a joint gathering of public school students. "The boys of America disproved that in 1918 and again in the forties when they were tough enough, brave enough and smart enough to defeat a very stubborn and treacherous foe."

Houston Stages Parade

At Houston, a parade of 4,000 persons headed by Maj. Gen. James P. Hodges, commander of the Air Forces Flying Training Command, passed before an estimated 100,000 spectators.

A memorial service addressed by Chester North of Waxahachie followed a parade sponsored by the Robert Vandenernest McBride American Legion Post at Hillsboro.

A three-day observance at Brownsville was climaxed by an 11 a. m., ceremony at Fort Brown in which American Legion veterans of both wars took part. Gold Star certificates were presented to families of local men who died in World War II.

Football Game Feature

Donna business houses closed at noon for the traditional Armistice Day Weslaco-Donna football game.

Raymond ville veterans observed the day with a breakfast get-together.

Texrkana and New Boston held parades. Col. Selby Frank, commander of the Red River Arsenal, addressed a gathering at New Boston.

Legion Hold Breakfast

At Plainview, Henry Teubel, state American Legion official addressed the American Legion Post's second annual GI Joe breakfast. Carl Green, chairman of the day's celebration, said hundreds of veterans of both wars from three states were there for the day's event, which included an 11 a.m. parade and a noon barbecue.

Odessa welcomed 10,000 West Texas veterans for a mid-morning parade, an address by Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith, a public barbecue, and the day's headliner foot-

CHINESE DELAY NEW ASSEMBLY AS OWN ARMISTICE BEGINS

By HAROLD D. MILKS.

NANKING, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Opening of the national assembly, called by Chiang Kai-Shek for tomorrow to establish an all-party government for China, has been postponed "two or three days," Minister of Information Peng Hsueh-Pei told newsmen today.

This was announced as Communist tempers flared anew over allegations that government troops in violation of the new cease-fire order were menacing the Red capital of Yenan, and as Third Party representatives urged postponement of the session until the end of the month in the hope of reaching a agreement with the Communists beforehand.

Earlier responsible government officials had predicted the assembly would convene in an informal preparatory session tomorrow as scheduled.

Meanwhile government authorities in Peiping reported recapture of the entire northern section of the Peiping-Hankow railroad,

The third victim at Houston was L. B. Andrews, 20, ex-serviceman, who received fatal injuries in a collision of his motorcycle with a truck.

COAL DISPUTE DOMINATES LABOR SCENE

By The Associated Press.

A threatened walkout next week of 400,000 soft coal miners dominated the nation's labor scene Monday as John L. Lewis opened wage negotiations with the government, free, for the first time in nearly five years, of federal wage and price curbs.

The release of coal and all other items except rents, sugar and rice was ordered by President Truman only 38 hours before the United Mine Workers chief met with Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug to present unannounced demands for higher pay and shorter hours.

Other developments on the labor front:

In Rochester, N. Y., the Democrat and Chronicle and the Times Union—both of the city's dailies and both owned by the Gannett group—failer to appear on the streets for the third day as mechanical employes sought to enforce wage increase demands. Meanwhile, Binghampton printers joined those in six other upstate New York cities where Gannett papers are published in asking strike sanction of the AFL International Typographical Union.

Members of three AFL printing trades unions employed by Detroit's three daily papers asked their international officers for strike authorization.

The Philadelphia Record and the nearby Camden, N. J., Courier-Post were making all editions with executives filling jobs vacated by 580 members of the CIO American Newspaper Guild seeking higher wages.

The Trans World Airline pilots strike went into its fourth week with both sides still trying to agree on an arbitration formula.

New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer returned from a California vacation to face a strike threat by CIO transport workers which would tie up city-owned transportation.

Fort Wayne, Ind., AFL bus and street car workers stayed away from work leaving the city 125,000 with 125 taxicabs for public transportation.

FEW RETIRING CONGRESSMEN TO BE ELIGIBLE FOR PENSION PAY UNDER REORGANIZATION PLANS

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—(AP)—Of the 121 present members of congress who won't be back next year for one reason or another, only 28 will be able to start drawing pensions immediately when their checks as lawmakers quit coming.

Thirty-three others now too young—will qualify as soon as they reach 62.

But none of the remaining 59 "lame ducks" is eligible under the congressional reorganization act passed in the closing days of the last session. The 62 who are have until January 20 to decide whether they want to accept the retirement pay.

The principal requirement is six years of congressional service, not necessarily consecutive. The pensions vary according to length of service, age at the time of retirement, and the amount contributed.

Eligible for the pensions at the start of 1947 if they elect to participate and pay up arrearage contributions for not less than the last five years are such "lame duck" senators as Guffey of Pennsylvania, Walsh of Massachusetts, Wheeler of Montana, Shipstead of Minnesota, Radcliffe of Maryland, Tunnell of Delaware, Willis of Indiana, Burch of Virginia, Gerry of Rhode Island and Austin of Maine.

Senators with enough service but not old enough include Murdock of Utah, LaFollette of Wisconsin and Mead of New York. They can, if they choose, start drawing at the age of 62.

The 18 retiring house members with enough service and age to start receiving payments next year include: Jed Johnson of Oklahoma, Tolan of California, Lanham of Texas, Sumners of Texas, and White of Idaho.

Thirty other house members who won't be back next year have the required six years of service but aren't 62. They include: Russell of Texas, Boren of Oklahoma, Wickersham of Oklahoma, Coffee of Washington, Robinson of Utah, Voorhis of California and Izac of California.

ed under an Armistice signed by Germany and the Central Powers and our country and the Allies. This Armistice was to precede the surrender of the German Army, Navy, and Air Force and the Peace Treaty. It terminated fighting of the First World War."

Jester Former Captain

A member of Jonnson-Wiggins Post 22 and a captain in the first war, Jester stressed the fact that Armistice Day, after all, was Armistice Day. It ended, he declared, the fighting of the first World War.

"Because our country did not lend itself to the building of the League of Nations, envisioned by the immortal Woodrow Wilson, because our nation pursued a policy of isolationism, because our nation did not heed the admonition of the American Legion, our leaders in the Army, Navy, and Air Forces and other citizens who believed that adequate preparedness was the best insurance against war, all of our triumph, of our travail, and all of our secrifices in winning this war did not make it a war that made the world safe for democracy and the war that ended wars. It was only Armistice Day."

Introduced By Judge

Introduced by District Judge A. P. Mays, an old comrade, lifelong friend, and first post commander of the local Legion post, Jester emphasized the day as being a day of national thanksgiving and recognition for the sacrifices and accomplishments of our servicemen and Allies who helped defeat the militarist of Germany.

"To the disappointment of those of us who were engaged in World War One, we saw Germany, Italy, and Japan, in less than fifteen years, violating the rights of minorities within their own countries and small neighboring countries and entering into conquest and subjugation of smaller nations. There is no survival of democracy and liberty of peoples in this. Here was the beginning of a new war, of a mechanized war, a war of new destruction and new techniques, and a war that was to employ and result in the oldest of human iniquities--the institution of slavery of free men.'

Tracing the errors made by this nation in not being adequately prepared, he lauded the gallant defense of our Allies, that gave America the needed time for its unbelievable and unexpected production of war materials.

Peace Efforts Discussed

"Now, once again, history is repeating itself as the World War has been brought to a conclusion we find our nation and other nations at a peace table, endeavoring to work out a world organization to prevent war, to preserve peace, and to bring helpful commercial relationships to the nations and the peoples of the world."

Warning that this effort is beset with difficulties, Jester stated that armies are still fighting in China and while we hope for the accomplishment of a world peace organization there is no guarantee that it will be established.

"Even now it is not preventing war. But we must make every effort as a nation to see that this organization becomes a reality. Scientists say the first Atomic bomb was only a token. It behooves us and other nations to see there is no more war."

Prominent Guests Present

Prominent out of town guests at the sunrise breakfast were Myron Blalock, national Democratic executive committeeman from the small, Horace Blalock, Marshall; State Representative L. C. Slimp, Jr.; and state Democratic exechtive committeeman Charles Gibson, Amarillo; William Michaels, Houston; Mrs. Irene Davis, Houston; Mrs. L. J. Halbert, Plain-View; and Mrs. Willie O'Neal, Panhandle; and Ira W. Schwartz, Commander of the Second Division, Texas, American Legion, from Port Arthur.

Julius C. Jacobs, post commander of Johnsin-Wiggins Post No. 22, presided as master of ceremonies. He termed the day as one that cannot and must not lose any of its significance.

Jester Is Lauded

Mays termed Jester as a straight thinking, plain Texan, in whom there is pride; a man with the beautiful human characteristic of simplicity. Jester's portrait he said, would take its place in the Capital rotunda alongside that of Coke Stevenson.

The gathering stood with bowed heads as the bugler sounded "Taps.' The breakfast was opened with the playing of the National Anthem and closed with the group singing a verse of "America."

In charge of arrangements were Bill Cruse, C. G. Dixon, and Joe Daniel, E. H. Gray and the state guard unit prepared the food.

ment and labor deadlock as they did a few months back.

While the unions said nothing the United States Chamber of Commerce called on labor to exercise "self-restraint" in wage demands and in the use of the strike weapon to enforce wage demands."

N.A.M. Sees Decrease.

And Robert R. Wason, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, declared that prices, after a temporary rise, "will be adjusted downward under restored competitive conditions" unless industry costs are forced up "by another round of wage demands."

Mr. Truman's order wiped price ceilings off building materials as well as scores of other items, including clothing, automobiles, furniture, paper, steel and other materials.

Officials of the National Housing Agency, which fought elimination of building materials controls, expressed doubt that the $10,000 sales lid on new homes can be held for long, although NHA Chief Wilson W. Wyatt has voiced determination to do so.

Building Rise Likely.

Privately, aides of Wyatt said it may be necessary to boost the ceiling to $12,000. And the $80 rental lid may have to be raised.

The Associated General Contractors of America, called for removal of controls on prices on new housing, saying this would speed up construction.

In lifting other controls, Mr. Truman noted that "some shortages remain and some prices will advance sharply x x x." But he added:

"The consumers of America know that if they refuse to pay exorbitant prices, prices will come down. x x x

Truman Blames Congress.

The President, in fixing the blame for his decontrol action, again bluntly criticized congress for the "unworkable price control law (it) gave us to administer." He said the "plain truth is that, under this inadequate law, price control has lost the popular support to make it work."

Replying, Republican National Chairman B. Carroll Reece said in a statement:

"There is nothing to be gained by raking over that issue. The congress which passed the law was a Democrat congress."

In the wake of the swing back to a virtually free economy, industry and business representatives agreed that prices will rise temporarily. But they look for a downward trend when readjustment "dislocations" have passed. Here are some comments:

National Automobile Dealers Association: "NADA urges (auto) dealers everywhere to continue to maintain the same general price schedules currently in effect."

Lew Hahn, general manager of the National Retail Dry Goods Association: "Prices doubtless may be expected to react nervously before they settle down to something like a new normal, but the consciousness that business concerns generally are too smart to price themselves out of their great market gives assurances that prices will not long continue out of hand."

Joseph G. Griswold, Jr., president of the Grand Rapids (Mich) Furniture Manufacturers Association: "I dont' anticipate any substantial price increases."

Galveston Plans Events

A joint ceremony will be held tonight at Galveston by American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts with Adrian F. Levy, former Galveston mayor, presenting the address.

Texas' 36th Division was to figure prominently in the program at Austin. The celebration there was to be climaxed by a return of the division's unit colors from the War Department to the state government, signalizing the last formality in defederalizing the state's national guard unit.

At Austin the distinguished service of the citizen-soldiers of Texas in World War II was singled out for high praise by speakers in a doubleberreled military ceremony today.

Officials Laud 36th

In speeches prepared for delivery at the return of the flag and 36th Division Croix De Guerre presentation ceremonies at Camp Mabry this afternoon, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, Maj. Gen. John B. Coulter, and Gov.-Elect Beauford H. Jester emphasized the fine services of the 36th avision and looked forward to its reorganization as a piece-time unit.

Jester was attending a Democratic executive committee meeting in his honor at Corsicana, and delegated Lieut. Gen. Fred Walker, commanding officer of the 36th to read his address.

Stevenson noted that it was the first time in history that the federal government had made a mass presentation of unit colors to the state national guard organization.

Slain Heroes Honored

"It is also an occasion on which to recall the valor of the soldiers of Texas—those who served and were spared to return, and those whose venture into the dark maelstrom of war ended on the battlefield," Stevenson said.

"There is little I can say in mourning for these departed heroes. Their families and friends and neighbors are aware of their fortitude and lament their absence. To those still with us we offer our praise and our thanks."

Gen. Coulter, deputy commander of the Fourth Army, said that from the days of the Alamo "Texas state troops have always fought gloriously in defense of their state and nation and have met every emergency, regardless of sacrifices."

State Proud of Record

"In the recent war, the 36th Division, the 11th Observation Squadron, 56th Cavalry Brigade and other elements and individuals of the Texas National Guard participtaed in the Mediterranean, European and Pacific theaters, and their illustrious records are evidenced by ten presidential unit citations, 16 Congressional Medal of Honor, and coutless other awards for gallantry in action. This state has every reason to be proud of that record," Gen. Coulter said.

Jester's speech noted that the return of the colors was a forceful reminder that Texas has an important part to play in maintaining the peace and security of the people.

"We also are reminded that those gallant traditions of devotion to duty that have been established and maintained in battle, by the units which these colors represent, must be insured and preserved in the new units of our Texas national guard," he said.

so far as "mere declarations of intentions" and declared that the mandatory powers have not yet "submitted any draft agreements".

At the same time he called for an end to "procrastination" and demanded that the trusteeship council be created at this session of the assembly.

Taking up Dulles' plea that the assembly avoid any attempt at this session to define the question as to which states are "directly concerned" in the draft agreements, Novikov insisted that it was necessary to arrive at a definition before the council could be created.

An authoritative source expressed belief that the political committee of the assembly would approve a resolution calling for reconsideration by the U. N. security council of five membership applications rejected last August.

The committee will meet to take up a resolution built from three separate resolutions offered by the Philippines, Egypt and Panama. A vote is in prospect at this meeting.

The proposal in the form approved by a sub-committee notes that the applications of Albania, outer Mongolia, Trans-Jordan, Ireland and Portugal for U. N. memberships were not recommended by the security council. It would have the general assembly call upon the security council to reexamine these applications "strictly on their respective merits as measured by the yard stick of the charter."

ple of Corsicana as always friendly, hospitable and loyal.

No Long Faces.

Jester said the Democrats in some states, seven days after the general election, might envy the Democrats of Texas today, and referred to the fact there are "no long faces or unhappy expressions on the faces of the Texas Democrats who are meeting here today."

"We are grateful that Texas has remained so emphatically Democratic in the political preferment of its people. This summer and again this Fall Texans proved themselves emphatic as to their preference for real Democratic principals and real Democratic government," the governor-elect emphasized, and then admitting there might be some merit in the "moaning of some people that Texas is not a two-party state" added: "I feel sure you agree with me that, since our party is the party that has firm control over the state and national political offices in Texas, it behooves us to realize our responsibility to see to it that Texas, under the Democratic party, has good government, good officials, and that we give good stewardship of our trusts and responsibilities."

History Repeats.

After referring to the Republican party's gaining control of the House and Senate of the National Congress, ending the Democratic control that started in the early 1930s, the next governor of Texas urged the Democrats not to be dismayed by the turn of events, and said that history has a way of repeating itself, and that changes generally come after the end of major wars and trying times of economic distress.

Supporting his statment about the changes, Jester referred to the Republican success following Woodrow Wilson's Democratic administration during World War I, the change in England where "its magnificent statesman and prime minister, Winston Churchill, after guiding Great Britain to victory over the Nazis, the Italians and the Japs, was superseded by the Labor party."

Jester termed the swing in England as one to the left, and "in America it is termed a swing to the right. The 'ins' during the war became the 'outs' after the war," he asserted.

After finishing his remarks on the national and international political picture and trends, the governor-elect spoke of his gratitude for the executive committee given him by the state Democratic convention in San Antonio last September.

Good, Solid Democrats.

"This executive committee is practically filled with good, solid Democrats and not only good Democrats, but good friends of mine through the years," he said, and added that it will be a happy privilege to work with the committee in formulating and implementing the policies and desires of the Democrats of Texas. He also parised Price Daniel, attorney general-elect, and Allen Shivers, lieutenant-governor-elect, as thoroughly competent for their positions and duties, and predicted they and their families would add much to the state administration.

Jester said he was anticipating his work with the legislature and that he had known many of the members for years. He said he was glad to see so many World War II ex-service men in the new legislature. (Jester was a combat veteran in World War I.)

Promises Co-operation.

"I want the members of the Senate and House of our legislature to know that I shall give them my co-operation and I covet their co-operation during the coming two years. Those of them who do not altogether know me, can and will learn that I am a team man." I consider Old Man Texas the coach. When he spoke last summer, he gave us the plays and the formations in government that he wanted used. I want to be considered the quarterback who, after going into a huddle with the members of the legislature and other state officials who compose our team, comes out of the huddle and helps carry out the assignments of the play to take it to its objective. I will be in there blocking and tackling the problems of our state government with you of the legislature and our other state officials. Our team will be glad to have some suggestions from the state executive committee, from time to time, as to whether we are running our plays right-from these Democratic formations that have been given us," Jester concluded.

Newspapers of Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Houston and San Antonio were represented by staff correspondents.

Program Presented.

The program from noon until time for the lyuncheon at the State Home campus included the pep squad, band, twirlers, Cub Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts, Blue Bird Girls, Babies Club (from 3 to 6 years of age), vocational agriculture boys with their fat calves, football team in uniform, running signals, etc.

The Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts formed lines with a color guard at the entrance to the dining room and sang "The Eyes of Texas."

The uniformed Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts went into the dining room to participate in the singing of "America" to open the historic luncheon and political gathering.

Executive Committee Meets.

The state Democratic executive committee was called to meet in the auditorium of the Home at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon by State Chairman R. W. Calvert.

The local arrangements committee was composed of Mayor Calhoun, chairman; Kelley, Jacobs, Joe E. Butler, J. C. Roe, B. L. Sanders, W. H. Smith, E. C. Mueller and Paul Moore.

CORSICANA PILES UP 41-POINT SCORE BUT INDIANS TALLY 47

LOCAL GRIDSTERS MAKE SPECTACULAR BATTLE AGAINST WAXAHACHIE

BY GROVER HEIMAN
Sun Sports Staff.

Deadly passes and alert, fighting, brilliant play by the smooth Corsicana Tigers scared the loin cloths off the heavily favored Waxahachie Indians before succumbing 47-41 in the most thrilling football tilt of the year Friday night at Waxahachie.

Bill Reed engineered the underdog Tigers from an apparently beaten eleven to a formidable offensive machine that clicked, forging from a two touchdown deficit to move ahead at one point in the game. Approximately 3,000 fans saw the game.

Waxy Line Held.

The new Tiger line gave the vaunted Waxy line a fitful evening as the Indian power blasted away at the stubborn seven scrappy lightweights. Indomitable spirit kept the locals in the game.

Outstanding in the line was Bill Sharpley, converted from end to tackle, who blocked, tackled and then shifted to end to snag a touchdown pass and recover a Waxy fumble in the shadows of the enemy goal.

Everyone on the team played equally well as the Corsicana squad clicked in the superb manner predicted earlier in the season. The line rose to great heights as it rushed Henry Stollenwerck, Indian fullback, off his feet when he attempted to punt.

Power Tactics Halted.

Stout defensive play by the core of the Tiger line halted much of the Indian power tactics off the T and the Waxy passing attack crumpled under close protection soon after the first two tallies were scored.

Humiliated Waxahachie, easily outweighing the locals by over 15 pounds per man, was able to bull its way to 295 yards on the ground but was never at ease during the evening.

Sheer guts and fighting spirit sparked the Tigers to a hairbreath of turning the upset trick on the Indians. Naming stars would require naming the entire Corsicana squad. Jimmy Cavender, before he injured his ankle, was slapping down ball carriers outweighing him 50 pounds.

Davis and Clark Are Starred.

Bill Davis performed brilliantly in the backfield for the Tigers as he snagged passes and was stout on defense. June Clark showed a return to his old brilliance as he worked up speed to spare in circling ends. Always a good man on defense, the cotton-topped runner was a raging demon.

Kelly Burkhart stood like a rock of Gibraltar on defense and unreeled a number of good runs through the center of the line to spill over the Waxy lineman.

Reed was a superb football machine as he calmly directed the team to come from behind time after time to worry the Indians. His passes were brilliant pieces of work, going true to their marks with only two exceptions. Sterling defensive work on the part of the Indian backfield kept the Corsicana scoring down.

In the line the guards and tackles were remarkable. Bill Sharpley improved 500 per cent over the week to give the Tigers two good tackles. Bittner played a hard, dependable game and wasn't pushed around any during the evening.

Line Stars.

Joe Bob Dixon and Jimmie Mash were jewels at guards and were in more than their share of tackles. Substitutes King, Rea, Cavender, and Dillard didn't weaken the line at all with their play on the same standard as the starters. Bob Douglas and Toppy Watson held the center down with excellence. Watson again played a beautiful defensive game and halted one Indian threat with a pass interception.

Danny McLeod, as good an end as there is in the district, again showed his offensive power at snagging passes. Herman Barrs, Mickey Bower, and Blair Beamon were exceptionally good on defense. Noble Davis, until he was injured, looked good in the backfield.

Big gun for the hosts was Henry Stollenwerck, who runs with a great amount of drive, but had difficulty all evening running over the Tigers despite his 20 pound weight advantage. Saunders, a sub quarterback, shone bright for the Indians, turning in a better game than Allen, who was highly touted.

Play by Play
1st Quarter

Corsicana kicked off with Stollenwerck taking the ball on his own 5 and racing it back to the Waxy 20 where he was dropped. Boatman slammed through the center for 12 yards to the Waxy 32 and grabbed 6 more with an off tackle slant. Stollenwerck bulled 2 yards over center and Boatman added three more. Allen drifted back and rifled a pass to Howard for 35 yards down to the Corsicana 19 yard line. Allen again hit the air, this time to Stollenwerck for 19 yards and the first score to climax an 80 yard drive. Boatman's kick was good for extra point. Waxy 7, Corsicana 0.

June Clark took the Waxy kickoff on the goal line and moved it back to the 20 before he was hauled down. Burkhart probed the line, but was given a yard loss. Clark raced around left end for 5 before he was smothered. Bill Reed kicked out of bounds on the Waxy 48. Howard tried the center of the Tiger line, but lost a yard. Stollenwerck, on a handoff, cut sharply to the right to the near sidelines and raced 58 yards to score standing up. Boatman's attempted conversion from placement was wide. Score: Waxy 13, Corsicana 0.

Corsicana's First Score

Bill Davis took the Waxy kickoff on his own goal line and with a burst of speed made it back to the 30 before three tacklers swarmed him down. Reed cocked his left arm and hit Davis in the flat and the half scatted 17 yards to the Corsicana 47 before he was finally hauled under after flabbergasting two Indian tacklers. McLeod lost a yard on an end around. Reed again drifted back deep in his own territory, pitched an aerial to Davis in midfield, who behind brilliant blocking by Sharpley, galloped 54 yards to score. Burkhart's toe was good to the task as the ball split the uprights. Score: Waxy 13, Corsicana 7.

Burkhart kicked off for the Tigers down to the Waxy 4 yard line where Howard and Blevin fumbled the ball around in the "Here you take it, no you take it." routine. Howard finally kept possession as a swarm of Tigers converged on the corner of the field, ran straight up the field with no deception and trotted all the way for a 96 yard tally. Boatman's kick for extra point was good. Score: Waxy 20, Corsicana 7.

Second Quarter

Clark took the kickoff and made it back to the 20. Reed's pass to McLeod was long. Clark skipped around left end for eight yards. Reed tried an aerial to Davis, but it was long. Reed punted 34 yards to the Waxy 38. Boatman slammed into tackle and came to a quick halt after a yard gain. Allen tried a pass to Boatman, but it was out of reach. Another pass attempted by Allen was long. Boatman punted out on the Tiger 20 yard line. Reed faked to the right and then split the hair with a bullet pass to Danny McLeod, who romped 80 yards to score after stiffarming one Indian tackler. Reed's pass to McLeod for the extra point was dropped by McLeod. Score: Waxy 20, Corsicana 13.

Score Tied

Stollenwerck took Burkhart's kickoff on the 10 and powered back to the 24 before he was dropped. Stollenwerck hit the center and was pulled down by Mash after a yard gain. Stollenwerck tried to pass to Howard, but it was no good. Howard got 15 yards through the line to the Waxy 35. Boatman tried the aerial route, but it was long. Stollenwerck worked 9 yards on a reverse. Waxy was penalized 15 yards back to the 29. Stollenwerck passed to Allen after being rushed badly and Allen fumbled with Bill Sharpley falling on the ball on the 10. June Clark worked his hips and ran over two Indians as he skirted left end to score standing up. Burkhart's kick from placement was good. Score: Waxy 20, Corsicana 20.

Howard took the kickoff on his 10 and moved it back to the 30 before he was dropped. Stollenwerck with a world of drive rammed 10 yards before he was downed. Watson stopped Stollenwerck on the next play after a 3 yard pickup. Stollenwerck again tried and netted a 11 yard pickup to the 47. Boatman slanted through the line for 4 yards to the Corsicana 49. Stollenwerck hit the center and was in turn hit for no gain. Allen skirted right end for a 10 yard pickup with Boatman following suit to add 5 yards. Noble Davis, Tiger end, was injured and left the field. Stollenwerck hit the inside of left end to collect four before Joe Bob Dixon manhandled him down. Saunders eased the ball 2 yards for a first down. Allen hit the line for 2 and Stollenwerck grabbed six and followed with a four yard gain with Burkhart stopping progress. Cavender was injured and taken off the field. Stollenwerck tossed a pass to the end zone, but Toppy Watson reached high to intercept and bring it back to the four yard line. Reed fumbled Douglas' pass from center and Skipper, Indian guard, fell on the ball on the 2 foot line. Saunders went over center to score. Boatman hit the center for the extra point. Score Waxy 27, Corsicana 20.

Reed took the kickoff on the five and zipped back to the 36 before two men boxed him in and made the tackle secure after the fast Tiger back was momentarily open. Corsicana was off side on the kick off and the play was called back. Clark took the kickoff on the goal line and after fumbling, recovered and moved back to the nine just as the half time gun sounded.

The Tiger Band gave a precision drilling exhibition, spelling WAXA and then TIGER, playing "Hold That Tiger" for Corsicana fans.

Third Quarter

Reed took the kickoff on his 12 and moved it to the 20 before he was pulled under. Reed's pass to Davis was intercepted by Allen on the Corsicana 40 with Davis making the tackle. Allen, the Indian quarterback, was ordered off the field, Coach Stollenwerck pulled a Leo Durocher, but was waved back to the bench. Waxy was penalized half the distance of the field to the Waxy 30. Stollenwerck hit the center for 5 before a light Corsicana man smeared him hard and the Indian fullback fumbled. Sharpley recovered the fumble on the 32. Reed tried a pass to McLeod, but Saunders intercepted and raced it back to the Waxy 42. Stollenwerck, through good blocking, nabbed 37 yards before he was busted off the field on the Tiger 10. Saunders butted his way for 8 yards to the Corsicana 2, from which point Howard slashed through a hole in the center to score. Saunders tried the line for the extra point but was stopped. Score: Waxy 33, Corsicana 20.

Corsicana Again Scored

June Clark took the kickoff on his own 6 and raced back to the 29. Burkhart hit the center for 4 yards and Mash on a guard around baffled the behemoths to race 58 yards to the Waxy 22. Reed's pass to McLeod was dropped in the end zone after McLeod lost his stride. Reed faded again an cocked his southpaw arm, rifled one to Bill Davis, who trotted the 22 yards to paydirt. Burkhart again used his perfect toe to rack up the extra point. Score Waxy 33, Corsicana 27.

Stollenwerck took the Corsicana kickoff on his ten and raced back to the 40 where the most viciously hard tackle of the evening was thrown by June Clark. The faltering fullback grunted so loud it was heard in the stands. Howard got 2 and Stollenwerck knocked off 5 and then added another. Stollenwerck began the sorriest kicking exhibition seen on a field in many a moon as he punted out on the Tiger 30. McLeod got 7 on an end around, but the yardage was nullified with a 15 yard holding penalty against the locals. Reed's pass to Davis was no good, but on the next play McLeod gathered a Reed aerial in for a 3 yard gain. The Tigers were penalized 5 yards, but the penalty was refused. Burkhart hit the line for no gain. Reed passed to Davis, but the half was unable to touch the ball when tripped accidentally by the defensive man. Reed punted 48 yards to Stollenwerck, who took the ball in the end zone on the fly and the fullback squeezed past the zero line to the one yard line. Stollenwerck looked pitiful as he punted out on the Waxy nine yard line. On the next play Reed, chased by five Indians played hide and seek around midfield until his receivers were open, then snapped one down to Bill Sharpley, who ran over Stollenwerck for a score standing up. Burkhart again called on his educated toe to send the Waxy fans muttering and moaning. Score: Corsicana 34, Waxy 33.

Stollenwerck took Burkhart's kickoff on the ten and moved it back to the 25 before he was rudely hauled down. Corsicana drew a 15 yard penalty. Stollenwerck added four over the rough Tiger line. Saunders picked up 2 through the center and on the next play behind good blocking, raced 31 yards around right end to score, shaking off two Corsicana tackle attempts. With a completely demoralized punting game, the Indians again elected to run for the extra point with Stollenwerck blasting through a hole. Score: Waxy 40, Corsicana 34.

Clark took the kickoff on the five and ran it back to the 31 as the quarter ended.

Fourth Period

Reed's pass to McLeod was no good. Corsicana was penalized 15 yards for holding. Reed passed to McLeod for a 4 yard gain. Reed again connected with Bill Davis for four yards. Reed punted to the Waxy 49. Stollenwerck bulled his way for eight yards and Howard added 7 as the Indian gained steam. Stollenwerck picked up four over the center and Saunders added eight around end. Stollenwerck ran into difficulty and only gained 2 on the next play. Howard tried the line and got 3 before he was halted. Stollenwerck used his weight well to push 6 yards down to the Tiger 11. Saunders went through center to score from the 11. Stollenwerck hit the line for the extra point. Score Waxy 47, Corsicana 34.

Reed took the kickoff on his own 6 and ran it back to the 24. Burkhart ramnied hard and collected 8 yards. Corsicana was penalized 5 yards for being off side. Clark was stopped cold after jockeying around left end. Reed tossed a pass to Clark, who collected 5 yards back to the 34. Waxahachie was penalized 15 yards. Reed's pass to McLeod was no good. Clark lost 2 in the line and Mash lost one on a guard around. Reed punted 46 yards out on the Waxy 7. Stollenwerck tried the center for 3 yards and then hit stubborn defense to move only a yard to the 11. Saunders lost a yard when Beamon knifed through. Stollenwerck tried to kick, but was rushed by Beamon and finally came to rest on the Waxy 1 yard line. Clark tried the center of the heavy Waxy line and was stopped cold. On the next play Kelly Paul Burkhart tossed the Indians aside and walked over to tally. Burkhart again used his toe to send chills over Waxy as he added the extra point. Score: Waxy 47, Corsicana 41.

Dawson took the kickoff back to his own 38, where the Indians became clock conscious and froze the ball. Stollenwerck, trying to run right end butterfingered the ball, but floundered on it before the Tigers could arrive. Dawson tried to skirt end, but Joe Bob Dixon squatted in the enemy backfield to drop him for a two yard loss. Stollenwerck finally connected with a good punt, unorthdox as it was, to send the ball skimming 57 yards to the Tiger 7 when the final gun sounded.

AWARDED AIR MEDAL—ABM (GA) 3 Garland T. Montfort, son of Mrs. Lorah B. Montfort, route 3, Corsicana, was awarded the Air Medal on Sept. 1, 1946 for participation in the atom bomb tests at Bikini Atoll. Due to unfavorable weather conditions at Bikini on Aug. 23, when the Atomic Bomb was dropped, the naval academy awarded Montfort the decoration for participation in an aerial flight. The citation said that he was an air crew member of a photographic plane that approached so close to obtain accurate photos that the crew members endangered their lives by doing work beyond the call of duty. The award was made on the U. S. S. Albermarle, AV-5. Montfort has been in the Navy for two years.

LOCAL LADS RUN WIN STREAK TO SIX WITH VICTORY OVER LIONS

INTERCEPTED PASS IS RESPONSIBLE FOR FIRST T.D.; PILLOWS STARS

By A. T. CONANT
Sun Sports Staff.

The State Home Lads smothered Blooming Grove Friday 41-0 on the Lions' home field, running their district winning streak to six victories. The Lion eleven was outclassed in every department by the smooth-working Lad combination.

The State Home scored almost at will and almost in whatever manner it desired. Its running attack was working to perfection, and its passes were connecting repeatedly. A fighting Lion squad could do little to stop the Lads on the ground or in the air.

The Lads scored first when Fullback Jimmie Pillows intercepted a Lion pass on his own 45 and went the touchdown route. Curtis Jones passed to Carrington for the second marker, and Pillows toted the leather 12 yards for a touchdown to give State Home a half-time lead of 20-0.

Pillows scored again early in the third quarter for his third score of the game, running from the Lion 19. Bill Phillips went over from the one on a quarterback sneak and Downey scampered 55 yards for a count as the second string added their contribution to the score.

Blooming Grove tried to stop the parade, but could do little about it. Rosson, Lion fullback, got off to some nice gains, but his blocking failed him repeatedly. The Lions never got into scoring position.

Pillows, the Lads' prime leather-lugger, did a lot to uphold and add to his powerhouse reputation. His teammates gave him the best of blocking to go with his natural ability in a broken field. The Lads' passing combination, Curtis Jones to Clyde Carrington, functioned to perfection.

The Lad line gave little ground. Lee Lawrence broke through to spill the Lion backs several times, and Kenner Boyce showed up good at end. The Blooming Grove passing attack failed to develop since the Lad linemen gave them little time to locate receivers.

Starting Lineups.

GIVE 'EM A CHANCE!

Well, it's over. The winners have won and the losers have lost and it was a glorious victory and all that sort of thing. Now what happens next?

The winners are apt to find that taking over is not so easy as it looked. Whether Republicans or Democrats hold the offices, many basic problems remain and cannot be solved on party lines, but must be studied and approached on broad human lines. This is especially true of local problems. The poor are always with us, no matter what the administration. The homeless are not apt to be poor and jobless as they once were, but they lack shelter just the same. If the bridge or new road is desperately needed and it will cost twice as much now as earlier estimates allowed, that problem is mathematical and human.

New people come in with fresh ideas, and that is probably all to the good. They may see ways to do things not tried before.

How shall the general public react to these new situations? Those on the winning side may be too jubilant and haughty to take a practical view. The losers may be bitter and try to pick flaws in every move made by the new incumbents.

But isn't it the part of good sense and good citizenship to give the new fellows a chance? Let everyone try to help, and give them time to show what they can do. If they are good, and get moral support from their fellow-citizens, six months or a year will show their value. If they are no good, and fail in spite of hearty help from all, a year will show it plainly. Time enough then to work towards throwing the rascals out next time.

But the decent thing is for everybody to give the new folks a chance.

BOREDOM

"If we are not all killed in the next few years," says President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago, "we shall all be bored to death." This fits in with the observation made by Dr. Howard A. Rusk of the New York Times staff that hospital patients suffer only ten per cent of the time from pain, and 90 per cent from boredom.

Boredom is not so funny as it sounds. On a national scale it can be dangerous. At least one revolution in France, that which overthrew King Louis Philippe in 1848, came about because the French were bored with their government and wanted a little excitement. Americans sometimes have the same feeling and turn out their governments to get a change. Whether they improve the situation, is another matter.

There may be still another point of view about this. An individual or nation, bored to the bursting point, is an individual or nation not engaged in sound and forward-looking activity. Busy and useful people get tired, and cross, and make mistakes and say things they wish they hadn't, but they do not get bored. They find life always interesting and with few dull moments. Perhaps nations, like patients in hospitals, need occupational therapy leading to the sense of craftsmanship which gives interest in life.

Getting meat back into the butcher's cases is now not the main problem, but getting it back at prices that the housewife without much money can pay.

ARMISTICE DAY

This the day when guns were stilled
Years long gone,
But the hearts with hatreds filled
Still rage on.

This the day when warriors paused,
Skies grew clear,
But the hates which bloodshed caused
Still are here.

At a word the guns are stilled,
Battles cease,
But while hearts are hatred filled
There's no peace.

UNCLE SAM STANDS FIRM

For once Americans will agree with Russia's Molotov, who, following President Truman's speech at the opening session of UN in New York City, shook hands warmly with the President and said, through an interpreter: "That was a great speech."

Mr. Truman's theme was that our present foreign policy "called tough by some" was merely an insistence that the search for peace be carried on with the idealistic framework of the Four Freedoms. He pointed out that those freedoms are interrelated since freedom from fear—of war—depends on the other freedoms of speech, of religion, from want. He further emphasized that despite the discouragements of the immediate post-war period, the nations of the world can and must work to accomplish peace in the future.

It was a look ahead, a strong positive stand indicating that the United States held hope of peace and willingness to work for it.

CREED, RACE NO ISSUE

An over zealous campaign speaker in New York State urged his audience to vote for Herbert H. Lehman in order that he might be "the first Jew to be elected to the United States senate." Mr. Lehman is reported to have been disturbed over this appeal. And well he might be.

Neither a candidate's race nor his religion has any place in American political discussions. One of the important objects for which World War II was fought was to keep these two subjects out of government. Qualifications for public office in this country have nothing to do with church attendance or ethnic origins.

COLLEGE WAR SERVICE

Teachers in men's colleges are carrying a heavy load these days. They are facing classrooms crowded to the four walls, with some students standing. They are lengthening lectures and lecture periods to take care of the mass of students. Worst of all is the after-class burden of marking and preparing examination papers, reading topics and themes and trying to schedule personal conferences with individual students.

The faculties of men's colleges are among the most overworked groups in the United States today. While it will not rest their bodies or brains, it may inspire their souls to reflect that this is their war contribution. Immediate war demands are over for most citizens, but these faculty members are now in the thick of their war service.

AUTO DANGERS

It is probably evident in every community that there are too many boys driving cars, with and without license. And the evidence shows in sad lists of accidents. Moreover, the situation grows steadily, because there are so many cars now in bad repair.

There ought to be more frequent round-ups in every community, to determine the condition of cars and the age and condition of the people running them. Elderly persons are usually pretty good drivers in spite of their years, because they tend to be careful, but there is no more dangerous weapon than a car driven by an irresponsible youth.

Little by little something is being done about housing. One city is discarding some old busses and street cars and hour hungry people are moving in.

and responsibilities of the chief executive and of the executive branch of the government are entrusted to me and my associates.

Future Difficulties Seen.

"Our government is founded upon the constitutional principle that the three branches of the government are independent of each other. Under this principle our country has prospered and grown great. I should be less than cadid, however, if I omitted to state that the present situation threatens difficulties.

"Only by the exercise of wisdom and restraint and the constant determination to place the interest of our country above all other interests, can we meet and solve the problems ahead of us.

"The stake is large. Our great internal strength and our eminent position in the world are not, as some may too easily assume, indestructible.

Truman Pledges Best Efforts.

"I shall devote all my energy to the discharge of my duty with a full realization of the responsibility which results from the present state of affairs. I do not claim for myself and my associates greater devotion to the welfare of our nation than I ascribe to others of another party. We take the oath of office. We have at one time or another been equally willing to offer our lives in the defense of our country. I shall proceed, therefore, in the belief that the members of the congress will discharge their duties with a full realization of their responsibility.

"Inevitably, issues will arise between the president and the congress. When this occurs, we must examine our respective positions with stern and critical analysis to exclude any attempt to tamper with the public interest in order to achieve personal or partisan advantage.

"The change in the majority in the congress does not alter our domestic or foreign interests or problems. In foreign affairs we have a well-charted course to follow. Our foreign policy has been developed and executed on a bipartisan basis. I have done my best to strengthen and extend this practice.

"Members of both parties in and out of the congress have participated in the inner council in preparing, and in actually carrying out, the foreign policies of our government. It has been a national and not a party program. It will continue to be a national program insofar as the secretary of state and I are concerned. I firmly believe that our Republican colleagues who have worked intelligently and co-operatively with us in the task will do so in the future.

"My concern is not about those in either party who know the seriousness of the problems which confront us in our foreign affairs. Those who share great problems are united and not divided by them. My concern is lest any in either party should seek in this field an opportunity to achieve personal notriety or partisan advantage by exploitation of the sensational or by the mere creation of controversy.

"We are set upon a hard course. An effort by either the executive or the legislative branch of the government to embarrass the other for partisan gains would bring frustation to our country. To follow the course with honor to ourselves and with benefit to our country, we must look beyond and above ourselves and our party interests for the true bearing.

"As president of the United States I am guided by a simple formula: To do in all cases, from day to day, without regard to narrow political considerations, what seems to me to be best for the welfare of all our people. Our search for that welfare must always be based upon a progressive concept of government.

Co-operation Pledged.

"I shall co-operate in every proper manner with members of the congress, and my hope and prayer is that this spirit of co-operation will be reciprocated.

"To them, one and all, I pledge with faith, and promise to meet good will with good will."

GOVERNMENT HUNTER BAGS 16 COYOTES IN NAVARRO COUNTY

Sixteen coyote scalps were secured during the month of October in Navarro county by a government hunter and a number of others are believed to have been killed but their carcasses were devoured by buzzards or animals and scalps were not obtainable, it was revealed Friday. The hunter has not been able to make the rounds of his traps and cyanide bombs during November because of the continued rains, and a number of the pests may have been exterminated.

Government Hunter.

The services of O. W. Cates, field supervisor, government hunter, with headquarters in Fort Worth, have been obtained by J. J. Kelt, Chatfield rancher, and his associates who have provided the $100 per month necessary to secure the services of the government agent. Cates resides in a trailer now located on North Highway 75, and he moves from one place to another as his assignments are changed.

Reports Three Wolves.

Kelt said three wolves were seen this week in the Chatfield area and also that if any community was bothered with wolves, get in touch with him and arrangements could be effected.

When asked whether fox, dogs and other animals were killed by the Cyanide bombs, Cates pointed out that the bait used to attract the wolves was not especially attractive to other animals, and voiced the opinion that he did not think a dog had been killed in Navarro county, although one was caught in a steel trap near Richland.

Here's the Record.

Scalps were secured during October as follows:

Earl McDaniel farm, near Richland, 7; Streetman, 1; J. O. Sessions, Buffalo, 5; Earl Easterling, Chatfield, 3.

A hunter was in Navarro county a month last spring, but rains nullified his efforts. A number of wolves, however, were destroyed farther south of Navarro county in the John Carpenter holdings in the Trinity river bottoms in Northeast Freestone county.

Considerable losses of goats, sheep and turkeys have been reported from time to time in Navarro county. Efforts have been made to interest the commissioners court in recent years to sponsor the campaigns against the pests and provide the necessary appropriations, Kelt pointed out, but thus far the appropriations have not been forthcoming.

have spent on many. This will slow down production, generally.

And—higher prices are bound to force labor to demand higher wages, which some unions are doing already. And more may do so.

If there are strikes, bad ones, that will slow down production, still keep goods scarce, still keep prices up by keeping goods scarce.

In this way the whole machinery will be thrown out of gear.

And if labor—just because wage controls are gone—strikes for unreasonable increases, businessmen will have plenty of reason for saying they have to boost prices to meet higher wages.

The higher things go in this country, the more it will affect our trade with other countries and make them less willing to buy here. That will dent our prosperity.

So here, starting today, business and labor have a critical responsibility in seeing that prices and wages don't become a mad see-saw.

The whole point is: how high can wages and prices go—and how long can they stay up there—without an eventual, frightful crash.

RICH-AIRE, INC., NEW INDUSTRY HERE, MANUFACTURE BATHROOM STOVES AND MANY OTHER ITEMS

Rich-Aire, Inc., one of Corsicana's newest industries, is just starting production and plans for a number of products to be on the market, made by the local company, within the near future. And twenty-five people are employed in the experimental laboratory developing new items and ideas for new products, improvements of existing models, etc.

Paul E. Richards, youthful president of the concern, is as much at home on the assembly line, machine shop, mailing and wrapping room, experimental laboratory, paint shop, or in his company airplane going across country to sell his products or attend to other business, as he is in the office. The entire operatons are at his fingertips and direction.

Native of Ohio.

A native of Ohio, the executive has been in Texas only eighteen months, residing at Terrell, Texas, for almost a year during the experimental stages of his company before coming to Corsicana last September. He is not a college-trained man, but learned the business by experience. A few minutes talk to the modest head of this company or observance of the smoothness with which he directs the various departments reveals what makes Rich-Aire, Inc., click. L. M. Fauber, life-time resident of Corsicana, is the secretary-treasurer of the concern. President Richards resides at 2415 West Collin street.

Only one assembly line is in operation at the present time, but another begins this week.

800 Stoves Daily.

Bathroom stoves are the first product on the assembly line and 800 are being manufactured per day, more than 20,000 in one month. There are 110 employees at the present time. The second assembly line to be opened will be for circulating gas heaters and 35 more employees will be needed. The bathroom heaters now in production are distributed nationally and to a number of foreign countries. Several shipments of the stainless-steel heaters have been picked up by plane at the door of the factory for delivery to Texas and Oklahoma points. Practically all local hardware and furniture stores are handling the heater, and will sell additional products as they become available.

Ice chests are also being manufactured here and shipments were made last week to Calcutta, India, and to South American points.

Developing New Items.

The experimental personnel is working and developing new items to be produced, and in about a month, production of a refrigerator and a candy display case will begin. Other products being developed include electronic sterilizer unit, ice refrigerators, beverage cooler, air conditioners and other refrigeration, and electronic items.

All employees are trained on the job here, regardless of their previous experience. Applications again are being accepted for the new assembly line.

Students Working.

A shift whereby the students at Navarro Junior College, located at the same site, the former Corsicana Field, can put in five hours each day and four hours Saturday has been provided in addition to the regular shift during the day. The collegians work from 4 to 9 p. m. during the first five days of the week and from noon to 4 p. m. on Saturday. President Richards plans to use additional college boys on the new assembly line.

Only office work is available to women at the present time, but it is planned to use them on the assembly lines later.

Feature Candy Case.

The local concern received recognition in the October 28 issue of "Air Conditioning and Refrigeration News" relative to the Rich-Aire candy case. A photo of Miss Doris Wilson of Corsicana, one of the office workers, standing by a model of the candy case, appeared in connection with a descriptive article under a Corsicana date line about the new product. The case also attracted considerable attention and comment at the recent national all-industry air conditioning and refrigerating shows held at Cleveland, Ohio.

Prior to coming to Texas, the head of the new corporation resided at Buffaco, N. Y., and Chicago.

The Ercoupe plane used by the corporation head has the trademark of the concern and Corsicana, Texas, on its side. The plane is used, too, in locating and purchasing scarce articles needed in the various departments.

Plant Superintendent.

G. A. Wilmot is plant superintendent and is responsible for the volume of production, changes, etc.

The new industry, housed in one of the hangars at the Corsicana Field site with some 54,000 square feet of space, is also interested in sports and recreation for its employees. A bowling team has been entered in the city loop of Corsicana and a league of the firm is also sponsored, playing each Thursday evening.

While not making any positive announcements, the executive of the factory indicates that if materials are available, plenty of industrial output made in Corsicana can be expected soon.

This industry came to Corsicana without fanfare, promises, or bonuses, and those at its head have said little, but they are doing plenty, and it can be reasonably expected that the firm's payroll and sales totals for Corsicana will soon be among the larger industries in Navarro county.

they will be diverted to the use of a Frankenstein.

The United States believes it can do much to put German industry on a controllable basis through breaking up her cartel system but is not receiving wholehearted cooperation from the British and very little or none at all from France and Russia. For instance, the British determination to handle the distribution of coal through two large syndicates owned or controled by the mining interests, making it difficult for dealers in the American zone to get supplies without forming a central purchasing organization, is one of the headaches encountered in working out the Anglo-American zonal economic unification.

With an increasing trend toward Communism in France indicated by the election returns, it hardly seems that the chance for unity among the French and Anglo-American zones has been enhanced. France and Russia have both been integrating their occupation zones with their own home economics.

If Germany ever is reunited in anything like its old-time form, which is no certain prospect, the nations may find that the only solution is full production under strict international supervision—a perpetual occupation—unless there is an unmistakable shift of German character. The ideal which has been talked—of a German industry capable only of peaceful production—would seem impossible of technical attainment. The arrival of total war on the world scene has made every item of production a military potential, from atomizers to zwiebeck. Some plants which actually make weapons can be recognized as full-blooded war dogs and eliminated, but it is not possible to remove the strain which pervades all industry.

Constant inspection of a Germany which is processing materials at full speed from and for a great area may prove to be the only truly economic solution.

"This is a world problem, not a British problem," he continued. "I call upon our government to delay no longer in the performance of its duty not only to the Jews but to decency and Democracy in Palestine."

Asking that at least 100,000 immigrants be permitted to enter the Holy Land immediately, Pepper declared the American Jewish congress is "righteously and with just indignation attacking the barbaric practices of the British in Palestine, reminiscent of the dark ages."

In a press conference prior to his address, Pepper termed the Republican election victory "a triumph of America's reactionaries" and predicted that "now we'll have less Democracy at home and abroad than we have been having."

FURNITURE FACTORY CONSIDERING CITY AS POSSIBLE SITE

HUNDRED AND FIFTY PERSONS WOULD BE EMPLOYED; PAYROLL $250,000

The possible construction here in Corsicana of a furniture factory was discussed Friday at the meeting of the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

A representative of the firm, understood to be a subsidiary of a large department store chain, was in the city recently and conferred with Mayor John Calhoun and Commissioner W. E. McKinney relative to obtaining factory space in the city.

Mayor Calhoun, who presided in the absence of Fred Harvey, chairman, said the prospective new business would require a building approximately 90 by 600 feet with a minimum floor space of 40,000 square feet.

Will Employ 150.

The firm furnishes furniture to the various stores in the chain and would offer employment to 100-150 local people and offers to pay a rental of approximately 26 cents per square foot on a 10-year lease with option for renewal.

Calhoun spoke of moving one of the hangars from the air field, if purchasable by the city, for the interested firm, and further discussions devolved down to a steel type of construction. The firm would require a loading ramp and railroad spur to run the length of the needed 600-foot long structure.

E. C. Mueller, secretary of the organization, sent the official information on the labor situation here relative to prevailing wages and the availability of skilled labor.

Training School.

Most of the labor required by the firm would be unskilled with a training school operated to teach job duties. If skilled labor is available, no employes would likely be transferred to the city.

The official was impressed with the prospects in Corsicana and remains interested in the idea of opening the assembly type factory in the city. The firm assembles finished products shipped in from other sections. Mayor Calhoun understands that the output will be only household furniture.

A. F. Mitchell discussed the prospects of utilizing prefabricated sections to build the needed building. The estimated cost of construction will be prepared by Sidney Brietz. Mitchell entertained a motion to write the firm official in furtherance of the matter.

Quarter Million Payroll.

The payroll of the firm would be approximately $250,000 per year if the total force of 150 is used.

Calhoun appointed a committee, of Fred Harvey, Joe Butler, and John Corley to draft a letter and follow through with other correspondence.

Present for the meeting were Mayor Calhoun, S. J. Miles, A. F. Mitchell, Lynn Sanders, Festus Pierce, W. E. McKinney, Sidney Brietz, Hubert Braselton, Joe Butler, N. Suttle Roberts, John Corley, Louis Wolens and E. C. Mueller, Chamber of Commerce secretary.

Meeting Of W.C.T.U. Held Thursday With Mrs. S. A. Dickson

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its meeting on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 7, in the home of Mrs. S. A. Dickson, South Fourteenth street.

The meeting was opened with fellowship singing, the first song being, "All Hail The Power," followed by "I Must Tell Jesus." A prayer was offered by Mrs. W. L. Holman.

Psalm 121 was read by Dora Lee and Imogene Harlan, members of the Loyal Temperance Legion, the children's department of the W. C.T.U. Mrs. W. C. Myers continued the devotional by reading Psalm 101 and made brief comments. Two prayers were voiced by Mrs. Dora Vaughn and Dr. Lucile Dickson.

The topic for discussion, "Bread or Beer," was announced by Mrs. Dickson. She recalled the Scripture Jno. 6:35 which reads, "And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life. he that cometh tc me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst." She discussed the subject thoroughly, stressing the means of accomplishing the things that are right.

The objectives of the W.C.T.U. were enumerated briefly.

The highlights of the National Convention of the W.C.T.U., recently held in Minneapolis, Minn., were given by Dr. Lucile Dickson, who attended, representing Texas.

A formal business meeting followed, continued by a report of the State Fair exhibit of the W.C. T.U. and L.T.L.

During the social hour, the members and visitors listened to victrola selections, recorded by the Loyal Temperance Legion members and directors of Corsicana. A new movie-projector also has been recently secured to promote the work.

After the refreshments, consisting of hot chocolate and cookies, were served, the group was dismissed with a prayer.

TEXAS COTTON CROP PREDICTION IS CUT BY 50,000 BALES

AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The United States Department of Agriculture estimate of Texas' expected cotton crop for 1946 today tumbled 50,000 bales below expectations a month ago.

The new forecast is for 1,700,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, the smallest crop harvested in Texas since 1886.

Harveste yield per acre is placed at 135 pounds, 31 pounds below average and the poorest per acre yield produced in the state since the drouth year of 1936.

Most of the reduction in prospective production from a month ago came in East Texas and in the blackland counties where much of the crop has been unusually poor and where effects of damage from insects and adverse weather conditions wer not fully reflected in earlier reports.

USDA said all areas of the state are producing an exceptionally small cotton crop except the irrigated areas in the lower Valley and extreme West Texas, where production this year will exceed all previous records.

A. B. HOMER, HEAD OF BETHLEHEM STEEL CO. VISITED LOCAL PLANT

PRESIDENT IMPRESSED WITH VIGOR AND ENTERPRISE OF SOUTHWEST

A. B. Homer, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, accompanied by Paul Mackall and Norborne Berkeley, vice presidents; C. H. H. Weikel, manager of commercial research and industriel development, and J. A. Kinney, assistant to vice president, of Bethlehem, Pa., spent Friday in Corsicana on a tour of inspection of the local subsidiary, Bethlehem Supply Company.

Arriving by plane in Dallas Friday morning, the party came to Corsicana by automobile. They left here late Friday afternoon.

Impressed With Southwest.

"I am happy that Bethlehem Steel has entered the field of the oil supply business and has thus had the opportunity to have an active part in this growing section of the country," the president said, adding that "anyone who visits the Southwest these days must be impressed by its vigor and enterprise."

"We came into Corsicana in a satisfactory way through the purchase of the American Well and Prespecting Company, which enjoyed a fine reputation," Homer explained. "We put a substantial sum of moncy into the plant to modernize it for the manufacture of drilling equipment."

Plants on Both Coasts.

"Aside from manufacturing production and drilling equipment, Bethlehem Supply sells and distributes a complete line of products for the oil industry," Homer pointed out. "The fact that the parent company has steel plants on both coasts, and is a nationwide selling organization, is a source of strength to our operations here."

"Bethlehem Supply has been a steadily growing concern," Homer stated. "While it had ten field stores back in 1937, it now has 40, of which 17 are in Texas, six in Louisiana, five in Oklahoma, and the remainder in other states."

Expansion Program.

The "substantial sum of money" referred to by the president is variously estimated by local unofficial observers not connected with the company, at any amount over $500,000. One large building was recently completed. The building permit issued by the city on this structure called for an expenditure of $68,000. Rumor has it that several other buildings are in the blue print stage. However, no other permits are on record at the city hall. Company officials will not comment concerning the expansion program.

FAMOUS VIOLINIST IS SCHEDULED FILL LOCAL ENGAGEMENT

Rubinoff and his Stradivarius will be presented to Corsicana on Dec. 18 under auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, at Senior High school, J. C. Roe, president, said today.

The internationally known violinist will present a popular program on his priceless instrument, which is insured for $100,000. A free performance will be given for school children at 9 a. m.

A matinee and evening performance will be offered. Roe disclosed the contract with the musician had been signed Friday.

Billy Patrick, first vice president, acted in the absence of President Roe, naming a committee to act as the junior college athletic program committee.

A committee was appointed to obtain sites for signs to be placed at entrances into Corsicana, welcoming visitors. Another committee was named to investigate the failure of the city to place street markers on the available posts. This unit will meet with the city commission.

A dinner dance for Jaycees and escorts will be held on Nov. 21 at the Corsicana Country Club.

A resolution was sent to the family of Clint Dunagan, Midland, and to the Midland Jaycees. Dunagan was killed recently in an airplane crash. He was a past state president.

AUSTIN LANDLORDS STRIKE PROTESTING OPA RENT CONTROLS

AUSTIN, Nov. 11—(AP)—A group of more than 100 Texas landlords officially went on strike here yesterday protesting the continuance of OPA rent controls.

They declared they will not rent any living units which become vacant until rent controls are lifted.

The action was taken at the first statewide meeting of landlords, marking the organization of the Landlords Association, Inc., of Texas.

This is the first official declaration in Texas of a movement which has left more than 10,000 living units vacant in San Antonio, Houston and Dallas, said Mrs. Frank Morris, temporary chairman of the organization.

Pointing up a large number of unoccupied living units in the state, one member of the organization announced that he had 100 units vacant, another was holding 59 empty and several announced they had as many as 30 padlocked until OPA price controls came off. Members were present from San Antonio, Houston, Dallas, Waco, Galveston and El Paso.

The new organization, chartered under the laws of Texas, adopted a constitution and bilaws.

QUESTION OF ATOMIC CAKE UPSETS HIGH CIRCLES IN CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The capital's clergy split today over whether a cake fashioned in the shape of an atomic explosion is a "loathsome obscenity."

The Rev. A. Powell Davies expounded the affirmative from the pulpit of his fashionable Unitarian church.

Then waving aloft the printed page, he told his congregation:

"If I had the authority of a priest of the Middle Ages I would call down the wrath of God upon such an obscenity. I would damn to hell these people of callous conscience, these traitors to humanity who could participate in such a monstrous betrayal of everything for which the broken-hearted of the world are waiting."

At least two other Washington ministers took the view that Mr. Davies, who mentioned no names in his sermon, was overly impressed by the picture.

Peace Comes To City Hall On Armistice Day—It's Closed

Ah, peace!

There was no talk of sewer charges at the city hall today. No sad faced citizens tripped in with lagging steps to pay taxes. No complaints for garbage or water service twanged against numbed ears.

The click of dominoes held forth in the fire department while Judge C. L. Knox twiddld a pencil with idleness.

For all practical purposs, the city hall was closed.

Pork On Hoof Goes Unmolested During Downtown Saunter

West Fifth avenue and downtown Corsicana had an unusual visitor Monday morning in the 100 block.

A hog, estimated to weigh between 125 and 150 pounds, was nosing its way along the pavement, apparently seeking some morsel of food as porkers are wont to do, grunting contentedly.

Where it had come from was not immediately revealed.

Suddenly the big pig decided to retrace his steps just before coming abreast of the Dinner Bell cafe and proceeded back in a westerly direction.

Maybe the over-sized pig didn't like the way H. J. (Shorty) Ewing, proprietor of the Dinner Bell, and several of his guests looked at him through the glass windows of the establishment. Anyway he turned around and went back the way he came.

The porker made himself like pork—scarce.

ANTELOPES HERDED TO PASTURAGE BY HUNTERS IN PLANES

AUSTIN, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The State Game Commission is having Antelope trapped from the air and moved from sheep to cattle ranges for better pasturage in West Texas this year.

O. F. Ethridge is the commission's official trapper. Stationad at Alpine, he takes off in his airplane, spots a herd of Antelope and zooms down to chase them into a corral. Helpers in the ground slam the gates shut, and another group of antelope is ready for transfer by truck to better feeding grounds.

Etheridge reported to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the State Game Commission, that he had captured 103 head in the Alpine area this week and moved them to Panhandle.

Next week he will resume his work around Marfa.

Trapping antelope through use of the airplane was in idea developed by Elliott Barker, state game administrator of New Mexico, according to Dodgen.

The corral into which the airplane cowboy herds the fast running animals is constructed with an outer wire net and an inside wall of heavy net some six to seven feet high.

When an antelope runs into the heavy cord net, the structure gives with the charge. Injuries are thus reduced to a minimum.

New Federal Farm Agency Is Set Up To Handle Credits

Credit facilities and services formerly provided by the Farm Security Administration and the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of Farm Credit Administration are available to eligible farmers through the Navarro County office of the Farmers Home Administration, Lester J. Cappleman, Texas State Director of FHA announced today.

Cappleman also announced the designation of Lennox O. Wright, Navarro County supervisor of the Farm Security Administration, as interim-supervisor-in-charge of the Navarro County FHA office, which is located in the Kerr Building, 214 1-2 North Main street, in Corsicana.

The Farmers' Home Administration, created by the 79th Congress, took over functions of FSA and ECFL effective November 1. The new agency will make production and subsistence loans as well as loans for farm purchases. Facilities are available only to farmers who are unable to get the loans they need at interest rates not exceeding five percent from banks, cooperative lending agencies or other responsible sources in their communities.

The farm purchase loans made by the new agency are similar to those formerly made by the Farm Securtiy Administration. Loans are made for 100 percent of the purchase price of family-type farms, plus needed improvements. Repayment is scheduled over a period of 40 years, and interest rate is 3 1-2 percent.

Operating credit extended by the Farmers' Home Administration under its production and subsistence loan program includes both annual loans and adjustment-type loans at 5 percent interest.

NAVARRO COUNTIAN AMONG OILMEN IN PRORATION SUIT

AUSTIN, Nov. 8.—(AP)—A suit seeking to enjoin the railroad commission from enacting proration regulations on the Carthage field in Panola county began in 126th district court today before Judge Roy C. Archer.

Brought by Clyde E. Alexander of Navarro county, W. G. Feazle of Shreveport, and the Chicago Corporation, the suit is a test case against commission regulations on production of gas from some 30 wells owned by the plaintiffs in the case.

Petitions filed in district clerk's office contend that owners of the wells have contracted for delivery of 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day, but that field allowables set by the commission in August of this year had run them into a 900,000,000 cubic feet deficit per month.

Smoke began pouring from under the hood of his automobile and the obliging fireman turned an extinguisher on the blazing carburetor. The car was then pushed to the repair shop.

Both the police and the fire departments are grouped together in the city government, directed by Fred D. Prince, police and fire commissioner.

NAVARRO COUNTY REGISTERS ONE OF LIGHTEST VOTES IN RECENT HISTORY

Navarro county voters, registering one of the lightest votes in history, approved the state providing a $25,000,000 revolving fund to be used to purchase lands for resale to Texas World War II veterans, according to returns from about half of the county, including all city wards. No election was held at Rodney and Phillip's Chapel. Returns from 24 boxes gathered by this newspaper Thursday night showed 309 votes for the proposed Constitutional amend ment and 188 votes against it.

The City of Corsicana, however, voted against the proposal, 66 to 88. Ward 1 went 10-0 for the amendment. Ward 2 was against it 7-9. Ward 3 went 24 for and 51 against while Ward 4 turned in 25 for and 28 against the proposition.

There's Still Time Set Out Strawberries

There's still time to set out strawberries. October 15 to November 15 is the proper time for planting, Miss Eva Sue Merritt, County home demonstration agent, pointed out Saturday.

If you've been debating whether or not to put out strawberries, here's a few pointers that may encourage you. Strawberries are adapted to a very wide range of soil and climate conditions, and are the first fruit to ripen in the spring. They're fast, too, requiring less time from date of planting to date of harvesting than any other fruit.

Miss Merritt cautioned against setting the plants in too deep in planting, saying that the original growing depth is best. If the buds in the center of the plant are covered, delay or failure in blooming may result. The plants should be spaced 10 to 12 inches in the row, and soil should be packed tightly around each plant to keep the roots from drying out.

Landlords Warned Against Overcharge

Landlords, entertaining the plan of placing overcharges in escrow pending a hearing on petition to gain rent advancements were warned Monday by J. S. Murchison, area rent control director.

"Any overcharge is subject to prosecution in federal court. Rulings have been handed down on the escrow plan and I believe it is fair. Without this, there would be too much of an opportunity to violate the principle of rent control," the director said.

Revealed were plans to begin a schedule of visits by representatives to smaller towns and cities in the counties within jurisdiction of the local office.

The schedule, to be announced later, will enable the landlords in the various outlying towns to register rent proparty with convenience. The local staff will be engaged in this registration and has been divided for that purpose.

Murchison said that three days had already been spent in Terrell and Waxahachie and other visits were planned so as to enable registrations to be made promptly.
